Apollo's Troupe, LLC seeks a fundraiser to support the performance of Frederick Glaysher's The Parliament of Poets. As is well known, theatre has three methods of fundraising: investment, the non-profit "broken" model, and donations and gifts. The first two result in a board of directors and the diminishment of creative independence and control for the artist. IRS rules for an LLC are different from nonprofits. There is nothing unethical or illegal in making money in theatre and the arts. Apollo's Troupe, LLC seeks to revive the old model of true Patronage, direct donations and gifts, preserving its artistic integrity.

Find potential supporters to Ask for a Patron Donation or Gift (Not Tax Deductible). Help Bring the Message of Peace and Global Community to audiences for 4 to 12 weeks.

The Fundraiser will be paid a 10% commission on funds raised, as an independent contractor, which will maximize what one can earn. Versus fixed hours and wages or a salary, one would earn based on performance and production, independently determining one's own hours and approach and procedures to achieve the financial goals as outlined. How good are your existing fundraising connections? How much do you want to earn? How fast? 20 or 30 to 60 days? Scale with Apollo's Troupe, LLC. Once Patron funds are deposited in Apollo's Troupe, LLC bank account, via one of two methods outlined below, and the bank confirms they've cleared, the fundraiser will receive an accumulated deposit into their bank account by the end of that month. Non-exclusive contract, meaning more than one fundraiser may be hired. No subcontractors may be used. Verification of identity via SSN on W-9 and State Driver's License.

SYNOPSIS - The Parliament of Poets

In this inspiring, soul-stirring production, Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, summons poets from every corner of the Earth—ancient and modern, East and West—to gather on the moon to seek answers to the questions that unite us all.

The 100-minute performance features musical interludes, literary and cosmic projections, and an overarching theme of humanity coming together in peace and global community.

Through the poet's journey, we encounter the spiritual and philosophical wisdom of cultures across the globe, invoking the voices of figures like Merlin, Tolstoy, Dante, Black Elk, Chief Seattle, Rumi, Vyasa, DuFu, Sogolon, Borges, and many others. Each character brings forward the best teachings from their civilization, offering insights into the collective human pursuit of harmony.

At its heart, The Parliament of Poets is a celebration of pluralism and multicultural interfaith dialogue. The production draws from diverse religious and spiritual traditions—Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Shintoism, and indigenous wisdom—showing how our shared humanity transcends cultural and doctrinal differences. (further details linked below)

Frederick Glaysher has given over 70 solo performances, including the NYC Off-Broadway Actors Temple Theatre, Theatre Passe Muraille at the Toronto Fringe Festival, Edinburgh Fringe, Studio at Hilberry Theatre, Theater NOVA, Shelton Theater, etc.
